

'Moving On' Journal: Guidelines for Contributors

1. Use a maximum of 10 sides of A4, including references.
2. Use single line spacing.
3. Do not use any special formatting and ensure that all headings are in lower case not capitals, for example, Dance Therapy rather than DANCE THERAPY. Headings can be bolded, as can author's name and date. See under 6. below. Sections of the text can be italicized as is appropriate.
4. If you are happy to do so, please include email address at the bottom of the text so that interested readers may contact you.
5. If you have any images, graphs or photos that you would like included please scan, save as a JPEG file and send via email to dtaa@alphalink.com.au. If you do not have access to a scanner, send photos to Jane Guthrie or Naomi Aitchison at DTAA, P.O. Box 641, Carlton South, Vic.3053. Photos will be returned after publication.
6. Use of Footnotes: our preference is an Endnote system as this is less confusing for the person reading the text. However, if the writer prefers footnotes they must be brief and only convey one idea.
7. References: Please list in alphabetical order at the end of the article. Suggested format for referencing (based on APA style guide).
For books:
Levy, F.J. (1988). Dance movement therapy: A healing Art. Reston, VA: American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.
OR
Hill, H. (1993). Journey Without a Map: Dance Therapy with Dementia Patients. In Lett, W.R. (Ed.) 1993 How The Arts Make A difference In Therapy. Australian Dance Council, South Melbourne.
For journals:
McNiff, S.A. (1987). Research and scholarship in the creative arts therapies. The Arts in Psychotherapy, 14, 285-292.
To cite within the text, use the author's surname and date, for example (Levy, 1988). For any direct quote also insert the page number.
8. Please check your paper for spelling and grammar before sending it in
9. Do not anguish too much over style. However, whatever you can do will make our editing job easier.
10. Copyright laws require that material included from other sources be acknowledged.
11. The editors reserve the right to edit any material submitted.
12. There is no guarantee of publication.

If you want to discuss an idea or possible contribution, please feel free to contact Jane Guthrie or Naomi Aitchison at dtaa@alphalink.com.au

Deadlines for submission of articles: Moving On is now published twice a year. Deadline dates are therefore now less stringent.
